

STRANGELY MISSING.

B. L. Rodgers, the West Liberty Hack Driver, Gone.

NO THEORY AS TO THE CAUSE OF IT.

He was last seen on Tuesday, and all search for him has so far proved fruitless—Rumors are rife, but none authentic—No clue can be furnished.

B. L. Rodgers, the well known driver of the Wheeling and West Liberty hack, is strangely missing, and up to a late hour last night not even a tangible clue to his whereabouts or the cause of his disappearance could be arrived at. He was a steady, sober man, with habits as methodical as over a man had, and his disappearance is all the harder to understand.

He drove a hack to town as usual Tuesday forenoon and put up his team at Dusch's, on the upper market square. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the hostler hitched up the team, as usual, but Rodgers did not appear, and after waiting a good while past his hour to leave another man drove the hack out to West Liberty. Yesterday his brother came up from Moundsville and took charge of the hack. All his inquiries about the missing man were fruitless. The police were notified and made a search, but owing to the entire absence of even a conjecture as to his whereabouts no result was arrived at.

It was said that Rodgers crossed the bridge to the island about noon, and had not been seen to come back. A thoroughly reliable man last night told an INTELLIGENCER reporter that he was almost positive that he saw Rodgers on Market street, in front of Lukins & Higgins' jewelry store, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A man who came up from Moundsville last night brought a report that Rodgers had been found walking on the railroad track at that place, and that he was evidently demented, but this report could not be confirmed.

Rodgers was not a drinking man, and there is no known reason why anybody should desire to do him an injury. His disappearance in mid-day, too, would seem to preclude the possibility of foul play.

Rodgers has a wife and two children at West Liberty, who are much troubled with his disappearance. He is about fifty-five years old, medium height and rather stout. He has a red beard and hair and ruddy complexion. He was generally liked by his acquaintances, and the news of his disappearance caused a decided sensation.

A Mt. Pleasant Man Disappears.

Mr. Gorsuch, a well known young man of Mt. Pleasant, O., has left for parts unknown, leaving a sick wife and two or three children behind. He left a letter addressed to his father, stating that he would never again return to Mt. Pleasant. He asked that the contents of the letter be left quiet for one week. His young wife was Miss Cora Medill, a daughter of George Medill, a prominent farmer living near Mt. Pleasant.

The bowling contests between the South Side and Wheeling Athletic Wheelmen bowling teams of the league last evening were watched by the large bowling more interested than any of the many other exciting contests of a season that has abounded with excitement from start to finish. On the result of the two contests hinged possibly the outcome of the race for the pennant. Many of the players of other teams in the league expected to see the wheelmen, who have recently strengthened their aggregation, give the over-the-creek team a good fight, and had the latter been defeated one game no surprise would have been expressed. Those who hoped for a W. A. W. victory and feared a South Side defeat were, however, agreeably or disagreeably surprised, according to which class they belonged. In fact, the champions, as they can now be termed nearly with certainty, played ball worthy of the title, while their opponents struggled in the roar 200 and 300 pins behind. It was the same old story—the W. A. W.'s couldn't negotiate the Mozart alleys.

As stated the result of last evening's battle practically gives the South Side "aggregation" a title in fee simple to the league rag and the championship cup donated by the Wheeling & Elm Grove Railway Company. Their nearest competitors, the Columbia team will have to win all their coming four games in order to beat out the leaders of today. And this they will hardly do as they play this evening the erstwhile leaders, the Wheeling Bowling Club.

In the first game the home team made the best score yet made on the Mozart alleys, 1374, every player except Horstman piling up over 217; the highest individual score was Gus Marshall's 254. Williamson led for the opposition with 240. Will Stevenson next with 237. The score in detail was as follows:

FIRST GAME.	South Side	W. A. W.
Spieldel	217	217
Hannan	217	217
Viewig	217	217
Marchner	217	217
Horstman	217	217
Wright	217	217
Totals	1374	1374

The nerve of the visitors was a quality not visible in the second contest; the big score in the previous game knocked them silly—not a player made 200 pins. Marshall again led with 232 pins; Hannan and Spieldel second best with 226. The score was:

SECOND GAME.	South Side	W. A. W.
Spieldel	217	217
Hannan	217	217
Viewig	217	217
Marchner	217	217
Horstman	217	217
Wright	217	217

BICYCLE RACING.

The Chairman of the L. A. W. Racing Board Fixing Dates.

The season of 1894 is going to be the greatest in the history of wheeling in Wheeling. Already more projects are underway than in several seasons together heretofore. Two racing tournaments are being arranged for, the great Denver-Washington relay race passes through here and two road races are talked of. Wheeling's entrance in the national racing circuit of the L. A. W. is now a certainty, and all that remains now is the fixing of the date, which will be in either September or October probably, as will be seen from the following letter, which was yesterday received from Chairman H. E. Raymond, of the racing board:

DEAR SIR:—Am pleased to receive your application for position in southern end of circuit. I do not expect to be able to announce the full circuit at once. I am working now on it, and shall in about two weeks announce the schedule for July, then I will carry the work on and arrange for August, then September and finally October, so I shall not reach the southern end until probably May 1. This will give you time to make up your mind regarding details. I will write you further when I am ready to take up the southern portion. I simply now want to get all the applications in, then I know what I have to work on.

Yours truly,

H. E. RAYMOND.

Wheeling's Athletics.

Great interest is felt in the coming athletic entertainment of the Wheeling Athletic Club, which takes place in their rooms in the public library building this evening. The INTELLIGENCER has published the programme, which is quite an attractive one, and will no doubt be enjoyed by the brilliant audience. The fencing of Messrs. Burdett and Stifel is said to be a great feature, and of course the work of Frank Miller, the Turners' champion club swinger, will be watched with interest.

McClintock and Hanke.

The race on roller skates, at the North End rink, next Thursday evening, between Eugene Hanke and E. C. McClintock promises to be an exciting contest. Both men are hard at work, putting in several hours daily at the rink, and both will be in tip-top condition when the race comes off.

MARTIN'S FERRY.

Haps and Mishaps in the Thriving City Across the River.

Several of the city Republican nominees are kicking because their names have been placed on the "citizens' ticket" without their knowledge or consent, and every one of them have declined to run on the third ticket or any ticket excepting the regular Republican ticket. Those who will not allow their names to go on the "citizens' ticket" are Matthew Jones, for cemetery trustee, Charles H. Carpenter and George B. Barr for council, John Viskars and George Strain for assessors, and George Ralston and Joseph Williams for board of education. The "citizens' ticket" was made up on Tuesday night and yesterday in the interest of the Democratic candidates for city solicitor, marshal and street commissioner. Even many of the Democrats are angry because of the poor judgment displayed by a few members of their party. Thomas Mears declines to run for council on the Democratic or any other ticket.

Hon. C. L. Weems, who is attorney for Isaac Nixon, who brought suit against the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad for $4,500 damages, was in Martin's Ferry yesterday looking up evidence. A Miscellaneous Mixture of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis.

Three prominent young men of this city were summoned to appear before the mayor on Tuesday evening for assaulting the negro porter of the Hannes house. Two of them appeared and pleaded guilty. They received a fine of $7.15 each. The other didn't appear, being away from the city.

Jeremiah Hagerman returned Tuesday from a four months' trip west. He spent most of his time in California with his brother. He reports the mid-winter fair not completed yet. A number of others are thinking of going on the cheap excursions.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The Movement to Form a Company in Wheeling Roasting.

WAITING FOR GOVERNOR M'CORKLE.

To Inform the Local People as to the Advisability of Forming an Artillery Organization—The Sentiment Changed in Favor of Infantry. What the Proposed New Militia Law Will Do.

The movement to organize a military company in this city, started some time ago, and in furtherance of which a meeting of the interested young men was held a few days ago, has made no progress since the meeting, for the reason that those at the head of the project are waiting to hear from Governor MacCorkle on the subject of making the organization artillery. Under the existing law, however, it is not seen how the governor can provide for artillery, and the sentiment among the young men who have started the movement seems to be changing in favor of infantry. Both Majors Bagley and Willis, of the First regiment, favor infantry, and General Spillman, the general in command of the West Virginia National Guard, has also counseled that the Wheeling company be infantry. He also adds that he does not see how an artillery organization can be attached to the First regiment.

It is probable that another meeting will be held within a few days to decide definitely regarding which arm of the service the new company will enter, and at present infantry seems to have the call.

Considerable interest is felt in the proposed reforms in the national guard, as contemplated in the law introduced at the last session of the legislature, which was not reached before adjournment. It will undoubtedly come up at the next session, and its friends predict that with some minor improvements it will be passed. Under the new law many new men will be recruited, as the minimum number of men for a company will be placed at 71, and the maximum, 100. Other new features are a battalion—four troops—of cavalry, one battery of artillery and not exceeding twenty-four companies of infantry. At the lowest possible enrollment this would provide for a national guard of 2,100 men, quite an increase over the 800 men now enlisted. The provisions in the new law would bring the guard well up in point of efficiency with that of any of the states.

Our brave soldier boys of company G came marching home yesterday afternoon in all their glory, and forty strong, in command of their gallant captain, W. H. Lyons, and their appearance caused many admiring glances to be turned in their direction. The boys marched to the armory where they were disbanded, and all expressed a willingness to respond to the call of duty at any time their services were needed. They brought with them a galling gun and it is probable it will be kept here for some time at least.

All the boys, of course, were glad to get back home, and their friends were glad to see them. They all have jolly stories to relate of the experience they met with in camp, and they are thrilling more or less, according to the ability of the relator.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell, and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. You'll have to Insist, sometimes, upon getting Pearline. Otherwise, grocers may give you some poor imitation of it, which pays them a larger profit, but which it will not pay you to use. It isn't enough to order Pearline. See that you get it. It has grown into favor so rapidly that it has not only brought out a host of imitations, but it has led people to call any powdered soap, washing-powder, or so-called washing compound—anything in the way of a powder for cleansing purposes—Pearline. This is all very flattering to Pearline, but if it's these imitations that you've used, you can't be enthusiastic.
